ConceptDraw to anyone."

Mr. Bassano, explains, "The processes we use are highly creative and conceptual. Consequently, many clients have difficulty visualizing a model or plan in its entirety. I've always used mind mapping as a note-taking and visualization tool. I have used the ConceptDraw MINDMAP since reading about it in a popular computer magazine. I was delighted to discover that I could easily upgrade my initial trial version to include many business applicable features very inexpensively."

In a recent ABL engagement with one of London's Boroughs, ABL was brought because of their expertise to help with the examination of the Boroughs Income and Collections processes.

Anselm Bassano, elucidates, "This is a large project delivered in conjunction with a larger team of consultants, so it is important that our plans are coordinated. The fact that a ConceptDraw MINDMAP can convert my mind maps into a Gantt chart with just one click is the envy of the project team! It is much more intuitive and user friendly than the tools they typically use in their consultancies; I would highly recommend ConceptDraw to anyone." ■
